

Whatever there be of progress in life come not through adaptation but daring through obeying the blind urge.

Henry Miller